"For someone with dyslexia and ADHD, having verbal presentations where you can ask questions to check your understand is very helpful. Thank you"

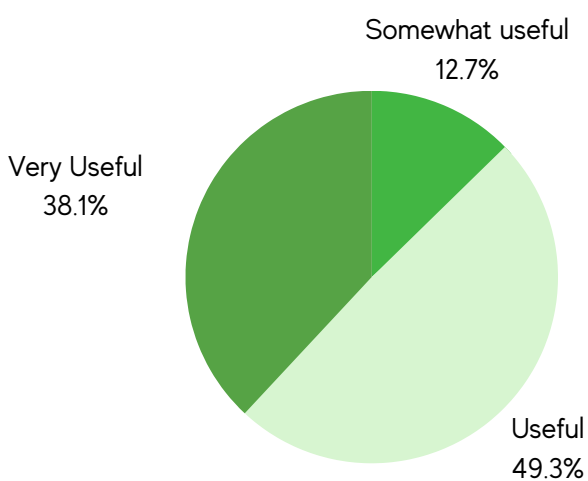

"I would have spent time researching the funders, but it would have been very time-consuming so this has been extremely useful. Thank you"

"The event was very helpful. It does make a big difference having someone talk through the criteria and application process rather than just reading through it yourself. Having a real person to ask questions in real-time is also beneficial. Thank you!"
